WHEREAS, Ormoc City which has industrially progressed in the last decade, is no exception to the existence of labor and management disputes then prevailing in many places all over the country;

WHEREAS, in the world of trade and commerce, more clashes on many points between labor and management are expected to happen unpredictably in the future as its natural trends or developments;

WHEREAS, there is no entity or agency in Ormoc City that represents the Department of Labor to take charge in preventing or minimizing labor disputes, to assist parties engaged in labor disputes to settle their disputes even through Conciliation and Mediation services, (i.e., through peaceful means and for peaceful solutions without resorting to strikes, lockouts, or other forms of coercion);
