WHEREAS, Ormoc City was badly hit by Super Typhoon Yolanda on November 8, 2013, the City was in a very pathetic state of ruins, the plight of the Ormocanons was miserable and dreadful during and after the ferocious typhoon Yolanda struck, causing terrible damage to properties, infrastructures and loss of some lives not only in Ormoc City but in the neighboring cities and municipalities as well;

WHEREAS, Tzu Chi Foundation is a non-profit international humanitarian organization founded in 1966 by Dharma Master Cheng Yen, it started out with humble yet determined beginnings. The Foundation has dedicated itself in the field of charity, medicine, education, environmental protection, as well as the promotion of humanistic values and community volunteerism. Their determination to carry out the mission and the thought of helping the poor was only strengthened day after day;

WHEREAS, their missions reached out to more people, bringing countless individuals to be inspired and discover one's value in life. Tzu Chi's goal is committed to alleviating the sufferings of the people and at the same time bringing joy and comfort to the marginalized society;

WHEREAS, Tzu Chi Foundation was among the NGOs who have rendered the much needed humanitarian assistance and services to the constituents of Ormoc City as well as they help carry out a cash-for-relief program, which provided emergency cash that helped tens of thousands of people to get back on their feet while cleaning up the disaster area;

WHEREAS, such magnanimous display of sympathy and support by Tzu Chi Foundation through their relief and rehabilitation efforts for typhoon Yolanda affected Ormocanons makes a difference in the upliftment of the people's living condition and indeed is worthy of sincere appreciation;

WHEREAS, LGU-Ormoc acknowledges and affirms the noble intention of Tzu Chi Foundation as a very admirable and a gesture of profound generosity equivalent to that of a good Samaritan who extend great help and assist the Yolanda-affected communities in Ormoc City in its recovery and development, ;
